

H. R. ELDRIDGE'S FUNERAL.

National City Bank's Vice President
Buried at Woodlawn.

Funeral services were held to-day over the body of Herbert H. Eldridge, Vice President of the National City Bank, who died suddenly Nov. 21 at Potosi, Bolivia, while on business connected with the bank. The body reached this city yesterday on the fruit steamer Metapan.

The services at St. Bartholomew's Chapel, Madison Avenue, were simple. The family present consisted of the widow, the two sons, Herbert and Richard; the married sister, Mrs. J. A. Meyers, and his mother, Mrs. E. J. Eldridge. The pallbearers were Frank A. Vanderlin, W. H. Tappan, Samuel McRoberts, George E. Roberts, B. D. Harris, W. H. Hurley, J. B. Allen and J. T. Scott of Houston, Tex. Interment was in Woodlawn Cemetery.

Relief in Tuberculosis depends largely on the sufferer's ability to uphold a weakened system, and thus induce a return of natural functioning throughout the body.

In this effort much depends on the remedial value of fresh air—night and day—and rest and good food. The patient should refrain from work that overtaxes, and all sanitary precautions should be taken. These common-sense measures are approved by doctors everywhere, but they do not always achieve the desired results unless aided by proper medication. It is here that Eckman's Alternative has excelled its worth, for in many cases of tuberculosis it has effected lasting benefit. Numerous cases of apparent recovery are recorded in its favor. In any event, its use is not attended with possible harm, since it contains no poisonous or habit-forming drugs. At Hiker-Hageman Co., your druggist's, or direct from Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia.—Adv.

EDISON AND NAVAL BOARD LEARN SEA WAR AT NAVY YARD

Nation's Masters of Invention
Inspect Submarines and Battleships on Initial Work Day.

Headed by Thomas A. Edison, the Naval Consulting Board, which is expected greatly to increase the efficiency of the navy, met at the Brooklyn Navy Yard this morning for practically an entire day's session of inspection and consultation.

A board room equipped with a long table and comfortable chairs, suggestive of directors' meetings, had been set aside for the members in the big building which houses the offices of Rear Admiral Nathaniel R. Usher, the Commandant of the yard. Shortly after 10 o'clock the board began arriving. Mr. Edison, accompanied by Miller Reese Hutchinson, his chief engineer and assistant chairman of the board, was among the first to come. Admiral Usher, the members of his staff and the heads of the several departments of the yard were there in uniform to meet the visitors.

In the board room, set parallel with the long table, was a Whitehead torpedo, and with this the members of the board interested themselves while waiting for late arrivals. Two naval officers, self-appointed instructors, explained the complicated mechanism of the weapon to a little party while the others got into coats and hats for the first business of the day.

This was the division of the board into squads to make inspection tours about the yard. When the parties were under way the entire board was present, including Mr. Edison, Dr. W. R. Whitney, Dr. L. H. Backlund, Frank J. Sprague, B. G. Lamme, Dr. Robert S. Woodward, Prof. Arthur G. Webster, Andrew M. Hunt, Alfred Craven, M. B. Sellers, Hudson Maxim, Dr. Peter Cooper Hewitt, First Vice Chairman; Thomas Robins, Secretary of the Board; William Leroy Emmett, Spencer Miller, Howard E. Coffin, A. L. Riker, William L. Saunders, Second Vice Chairman; Benjamin B. Thayer, Dr. Joseph W. Richards, Lawrence Addicks, Elmer A. Sperry and Mr. Hutchinson.

One of the squads of the Board went to the basin nearby and boarded the submarine E-2, which was equipped with the new Edison storage battery about two months ago. This battery is intended to preclude a possibility of suffocating the crew with chlorine gas fumes, as other batteries in United States submarines are likely to do in times of accident.

Lying beside the E-2 was the submarine K-1, equipped with the batteries generally used aboard this type of craft. The Board members noted the difference between the two.

Another squad went aboard the battleships Wyoming and Utah, the latest dreadnoughts afloat in the American service. This squad was interested in matters of fire control, in turret revolving mechanism, in electric firing devices, in the gyroscopic compasses installed far below the water line, and in the wireless equipment.

Still other squads went to the engineering buildings to observe the action of the big gas engine, recently installed, and the machinery for turning out the frames and plates of battleships.

As all of the New York division of the Atlantic Fleet was at the yard the board was able to inspect many classes of vessels. Examination was made of the battleship California, which is still on the stocks, and is to be fitted with electric motors, and the Arizona, a turbine battleship.

When those tours of inspection were ended the entire Board went to the residence of Admiral Usher and there was entertained at luncheon while the station band played. Luncheon was scheduled to last from 1 o'clock until the cigars were finished, close upon 3 o'clock, when the Board went into private session in the commandant's office building.

At this meeting it was said that the subject of establishing a Government nitrate plant would be discussed, and the members would talk over in detail what they had observed aboard the vessels earlier in the day.

ORDER HER TO GET DOCTOR.

Law Steps in for Sick Child Treated by Father.

Under threat of being prosecuted if her child died without medical attention, Mrs. Lucia Cesara, of No. 175 Beekman Avenue, Brooklyn, today permitted the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children to send a physician and nurse to her home to treat Conchetta Cesara, seven years old. The child was suffering from pneumonia while the mother sought to prevent medical treatment in observance of her faith as a member of the Christian Assembly of Jesus. Carmine Jollo, who said he was the leader of the church of which Mrs. Cesara is a member, was at the bedside when agents of the society went to the house.

8 Visits for $5

The reason why many people suffering from catarrhal troubles are cured is because they cannot afford to receive proper treatment often enough.

The offer of the nominal fee rate of 8 visits for $5 is given at this time by Dr. McCoy so that all sufferers from catarrhal diseases may afford to receive treatment as often as it is needed.

I take this opportunity of notifying all those who require treatment for catarrhal troubles that until Jan. 1 my fee for treatment will be a charge of $5.00 for eight complete treatments. This fee will include all necessary treatment and medicine. In order to take advantage of this low offer it will be necessary to visit my office and enroll your name on or before Dec. 31.
